Keep the Horton General to benefit from Banbury United Lottery Fund

Representatives of Keep the Horton General (KTHG) attended the launch of Banbury United's Lottery on Thursday 9 May.

The club's Commercial Director, Mark Allitt, gave an extensive presentation to a large crowd of supporters in the clubhouse. He explained how the Lottery will be run and how the profits will be shared. KTHG has been selected to receive 10% because of the important work it does on behalf of the local population.

Two of Banbury's most prominent businesses are sponsoring the Lottery. John Nicholls (Trading) Limited represented by Director, Adam England and Martin Humphris on behalf of Humphris Funeral Directors. Both company representatives reinforced their commitment to the new fundraising scheme.

KTHG Chairman, Keith Strangwood, gave a stirring speech explaining how KTHG relies on donations from local companies and the public. The two year battle through the courts regarding the legality of the Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group's changes to the health provision in the north of the county has resulted in significant financial cost. 'The monthly donations from the Banbury United Lottery is a fantastic example of the community pulling together' he said.

Lottery tickets will be available via numerous retail outlets in the town as well as at the football club and via the KTHG website.
