

PRESS RELEASE

Keep the Horton General agree to press ahead with an appeal

Following Cherwell District Council's decision not to appeal the decision by Mr Justice Mostyn at the Royal Courts of Justice last month into the legality of OCCG's Phase One consultation process, KTHG called an Extraordinary meeting of members this evening to debate whether it goes ahead with an appeal.

The vote was carried by a majority.

Some members were unable to attend due to illness but votes by text were accepted.

The debate lasted two hours but the eventual decision was not to give up.

'We have come this far and have been supported wholeheartedly by the public, financially and in spirit' said KTHG Chairman, Keith Strangwood. 'This is not the time to let those people down. We will fight to the bitter end if needs be. We would be failing the memory of George Parish, our beloved previous Chairman, if we folded meekly at this stage' he added.
